KEROSENE OIL CO.,
AUCTIONEER
AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of PATENTS (Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857.)
No. 70 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries.
Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign Patents, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and legal or other advice referred in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE suc-CESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE THAN THE SUBSCRIBER, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ABILITY AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that at no other office of the kind are more charges for professional services so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These besides his extensive library of legal and inventive works, and full accounts of patent granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to perform the duties of obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washin ton, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay in procuring a patent.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
GILAS MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE, Esq.
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. P. Eddy has made for me FIFTY-TEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unassailable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 15th, 1857, to June 17th, 1858,
the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made, on a large repeated applications, SIX-TEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Leaving that, we pass to answer and if possible enlighten the committee, in regard to the profits secured to the Suffolk by her connection with country interests. We shall not claim to be infallible, for it is very easy, to be mistaken, but we shall endeavor to place the figures before the committee, rather than above the mark; and we shall encourage this examination, by conceding to the committee, that the sum total of the expense incurred by the arrangement of the country banks with the Suffolk amounts to $65,000 per annum. This sum certainly looks very large, and if to this sum is added the expense of other city banks, the whole of the expense cannot be very much short of $100,000. But this is not impossible, and is admitted. Now what does the get in return? In the first place the average deposits of 300 banks at $1000 each, is $1,200,000, which at 6 per cent is $72,000. This at once wipes off all expenses, and leaves $7,000. The excess of deposits, supposed to be $2000 to each, but which we will call $1000, to make it perfectly true, and we have $300,000 more, which, at 6 per cent, is $18,000. Then there is the gain of one day's interest on each deposit made, which, supposing the average deposit to be $500 (and this certainly cannot be more than half the average sum) and it gives eight cents per day for each of the $300 banks, or $24 per day, and allowing the year to be 360 days, it makes $7200. These sums united make $97,200, and if to these we add the charge for collections for these customers, and suppose it $2500 more, which is not one fourth in our opinion, and the country banks actually pay to the Suffolk, over every expense, $32,000, or 3-1-2 per cent on the whole amount of their capital stock. And even this, being as it is, must be correct or under the real profit. Do this Committee, after this showing, persist in the declaration that the Suffolk only charges a fair compensation? Can they so long the community as to make it believed?

But we need not be entirely without proof in relation to this matter. Prior to 1821, when the Suffolk had no business with the country banks, her shareholders received no larger dividends than other City Banks, we believe six per cent, but very soon she began to pay more, make stock dividends, invest in real estate, and keep it valued as at present, to cover up as much as possible her immense profits. Besides all this, she has suffered immensely by floods and defalcations, and still after dividing such pitifully dividends, regularly for many years, we believe, if her real estate was to be sold today under the hammer, she would pay every liability and have more than $100,000 over the amount of her present capital stock. One thing is certain, the burden is tremendous for the country interest to sustain. We know of one bank of $100,000 capital, in Rhode Island, which is compelled to keep a permanent deposit of $10,000, the interest on which is a loss of $120. Then the express charges and other expenses will amount to $100 more, making an aggregate of $100 with a reported dividend of $20,000 which probably at no time is within some thousands of it. In addition to this is the loss of one day on every deposit made, and the loss of collecting, in delaying credits.

Watering Place Gossip.
"No New Yr."—The editor of the Frederickburg News writes from the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, that among the complaints he had heard, the most reasonable was that of a young lady who uttered the following: "Two weeks here at two dollars a day, beside the bar bill, and no beer yet."

THE VIRGINIA PRISONERS.—The Richmond Enquirer of the 4th inst. says: There were, at the latest accounts, 1,000 persons at the Old White, 150 at the Sweet, about 120 at the Red Swan, and over 310 at the Rockbridge Alum Springs, and many others preparing to "go up."

An exchange furnishes the following:
The four young English lords who are at present floating on the highest waves of fashionable American society, are somewhat surprised at the attention they receive, which is so much more than boys of their age ever obtain at home. During a ball at Newport the other evening, a lady guest rather harshly rebuked one of the juveniles by asking him the title. "Lord," was the reply. "I know that," replied the lady; "but have you no other title at home?" "Oh, yes," responded the lord, "father calls me Freddy."

SARATOGA.—The New York Express says there was a perceptible diminution of guests last week at Saratoga. Visitors were going and coming in equal crowds, and hundreds are still "colonized" out.

On Sunday, about noon, two young Germans—Mr. D. J. Hart, (well known in this vicinity as a teacher of languages, and now said to have been engaged in that capacity in a school at Newport, R. I.) and Mr. Herman Lissner of Boston, took a boat from Green's Wharf, Water street, to go down the river. But the tide swept them up against the bridge, and upset the boat, when sunk. A man put off in a boat, and rescued Lissner in a very exhausted state; but Hart was drowned—and his body was not recovered.—Portsmouth, N. H. Chronicle, 30th.

It is said that Mrs. Cyrus W. Field, in reply applying to the courts for a legal settlement of the question whether her husband belongs to the country or to herself. The good lady need not feel that trouble, for it is well known that Mr. F. belongs not to the country, but to the universal world.

A camp-meeting at Mountville, Va., on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was attended by about ten thousand people, on Sunday.

An effort is making in Arkansas to induce the Legislature to compel the whole colored population to leave the State.

A beautiful cave in the mountains at the Neva, near Patterson, was explored last week to the distance of 250 feet.

York State Politics.

The various political parties and fragments of parties in the Empire State, and the presses that represent them, are beginning to move in reference to their fall Elections. The three parties, Republican, American and Democratic, are to hold their State Nominating Conventions at Syracuse in September—the two former leading off, on the 8th. State officers, Legislature, and Members of Congress, are to be chosen in November.

There are few of the States in which greater fluctuations of parties occur than in New York—few States in which there is so little certainty as to the results of Elections—and the present posture of the political forces there is in some respects different from any that has preceded it. What will be the result in November, it is easy to speculate on, but may be hard to tell with certainty.

In the first place, there is in that great State no such thing as a union of the American Republican parties, such as we have in all the New England States. For some cause, the leading men and journals of these parties have long kept up a bitter, hateful, and most unprofitable warfare upon each other, thus frustrating the most beneficial and needed public measures, and giving the State largely into the hands of their common opponents—which they could easily and certainly avoid, if united.

Another great trouble, especially to the Republicans, just now, is the fact that General Smith has been already put forward as a Reform candidate for Governor—has accepted the nomination, and is actively engaged in addressing large public meetings in various parts of the State, preparatory to the Election.—Mr. Smith is one of the largest hearted, most eloquent and excellent men in the State, and would not fail to make a truly noble Governor, one that the Empire State might well be proud of—but his Abolition and Temperance opinions are a shade too radical and ultra to suit the "authorities" of the Republican party, though it is quite certain that a large portion of the rank and file hold to Mr. Smith's views on these subjects. And, whoever may be put in nomination by the other parties, there can be no question that General Smith will poll a large vote. If the Republicans would muster the manliness and magnanimity to nominate and support him, they would probably carry the State. But they won't do it.—There are too many office-seeking aspirants, who would have small hopes of success under such a man's administration. These vermin will oppose any just and noble candidate—and they will oppose Gerrit Smith, to a certainty. Old Hunkerism, and ignorance, and party bigotry, will also oppose him—to say nothing of the Rum Power.

There is very little said as yet as to who will be the other candidates. But there will be a vigorous contest, not only for State officers, but for members of the Legislature; and doubtless a bitter and heated conflict for the choice of Congressmen—thanks to the big salaries!

J. R. Snowden, Esq., Director of the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia, suggests to the Board of Trade of that city, that an appropriate medal be struck to commemorate the successful laying of the Atlantic Cable, and that the head of Prof. Morse be placed on one side of the medal.

The above suggestion is well enough, but we should advise the "Director of the U. S. Mint" not to trouble himself a great deal about medals or other trumpery, until he is able to get up a more respectable looking "cent" than the miserable bogus affair with which the country has been afflicted for the last year or more.

If the "new cent" is to be taken as a specimen of his taste and ingenuity, it must be obvious enough that the "Director" is not the chap to devise a medal for any purpose. We would not trust him to get up even a leather one, for we should feel perfectly sure he would blotch it. Five counterfeiters, out of every six in any State prison, can get up coins that, in point of taste and elegance, would put the "new cent" to open shame.

Cherbourg.

The European journals are largely occupied with the details of the "royal fetes" at Cherbourg on the 4th, 5th and 6th of August last. Cherbourg is a strongly fortified city on the French coast, near the British islands of Jersey, Alderney, etc., about 150 miles southwest of London. It has a population of some 29 to 35,000, and is famous for its naval docks and arsenal, and its naval schools, hospitals and tribunals.

The elder Bonaparte spared no expense in fortifying and strengthening the defenses of Cherbourg; and "Napoleon the Little" has also bestowed a good deal of the people's money upon certain public works which have been constructed by his order at that place. The Queen of England and her husband, with "Lords and Commons," and many other dignitaries of various grades, were invited to meet "the Emperor" Louis Napoleon and his retinue at the inauguration of the statue of Napoleon I. at Cherbourg on the 6th, which invitation was complied with. But from the equivocal attitude lately exhibited by Louis Napoleon toward England, some of the British journals doubted the propriety of the Queen's attendance.

LOCAL NEWS.

CONNECTION.—In our report of the Supreme Court, a slight error occurred, which we correct by request of one of the parties. The following is the correct version:

In the case Henry B. Horswell vs. John A. C. Storer, the Jury impaneled in said case find that said defendant is not guilty, in manner and form as the said Plaintiff in said Declaration has alleged. And the Jury further find that said Defendant has not by himself, his heirs, and tenants, been in possession of the premises described in Plaintiff's Declaration for twenty years before the commencement of said action in manner and form as is alleged in their plea of possession and defendant filed in said case.—Copy of the original verdict.

REVIEW AT FORT ADAMS.—We are requested to say that there will be a Review, Inspection, and Drill, of the Artillery, at Fort Adams, in honor of General Peck, today, (Tuesday, 31st,) at 11 o'clock, if fair.

As this will probably be the last grand Review of the season, citizens and visitors would do well to avail themselves of it. Boats will leave Bannister's Wharf for Fort Adams at all hours of the forenoon, though we would advise those intending to go to start as soon as possible after 9 o'clock, as, if the day is fair the boats will be likely to be crowded as the hour of 11 approaches, so much so to make it difficult to get a passage.

The line snailboats Haze and City Belle will also leave Ferry Wharf for the Fort as above.

TO SMOOKERS.—Stanton's Cigars, at No. 102 Thames Street, are the deus ex machina of excellence. They don't need puffing, as they puff themselves, and that, too, without scarcely any effort on the part of the smoker. The man who smokes one of them before retiring to rest, may dream of Paradise and elysiums all the night.

LARGE SHEEP.—Two sheep, a Leicester and South Down, were butchered yesterday, by Mr. Aaron Caggehall, the smallest of which weighed 135, and the largest 152 lbs. They were raised by Mr. Peleg T. Sherman. The mutton will be served up at the Ocean House Ball to-night.

For the Daily News.
Mr. Editor: I did not expect I should have to appear before the public again in the matter of my last communication; but my attention being called to a communication in the Mercury of the 29th, signed "One of the Authorities," charging me with trying to make it appear that the Police only watched the hotels, I will claim your indulgence while I refer to the subject again.

I think, Sir, he will have hard work to make the public believe to the contrary after the case which I stated in my former communication, and which I am fully prepared to prove to the satisfaction of every reasonable person. I would like to ask the writer of the communication in the Mercury where the Night Police were on the night of the late false alarm of fire, when the Watch-House was fastened up and some of our citizens had to wait with a prisoner while the man who was detained as "dog watch" went in search of the proper officer without being able to find him? Will he deny this?

I will further state, that I frequently walk around about the Hill as I go to my home at night, and almost invariably see some of the night police about the hotels, which fact I can prove by ample testimony. I will also ask if the public peace of this small city requires policemen to literally swear like bees, to the annoyance of peaceable citizens, as some of them have felt so annoyed. More anon.

We insert the following with pleasure. The suggestions are good, and the matter is worthy of consideration. There is an old saying and a true one, that "a merciful man is merciful to his beast," and no means should be omitted which will lighten the toils of that patient, enduring and indispensable animal the horse:

For the Daily News.

UNCLINK YOUR HORSES.—And why not? If your horse has got to stand still to that post perhaps for hours, or even but a few moments, unclick him, I say, and see how the poor animal will straighten his head and neck as soon as it is relieved from its unnatural position.

Uncheck your horse at the bottom of a hill if you have a heavy load, and let him have free use of his muscular powers. Think what our condition would be if we were chained to a wheelbarrow, with our head drawn back from its natural position, and compelled to wheel gravel up hill under the scorching rays of a summer's sun. Think of it, ye unmerciful teamsters and drivers; think of it, ye Bon Ton of fashion, when you are enjoying a pleasant ride and that span of noble horses standing in the street in perfect torture. Think of these things, I say.

Why is it that our best horses are broken down and worn out by the time they are twelve or fourteen years old? What are we doing to them? What but abuse and ill treatment is the cause of this? EZEKIEL.

There are forty-six persons in England who have incomes of £150,000 a year, equal to two millions and a quarter dollars.

Another Handsome Fortune Realized.
We were by the Georgia Constitutionalist, that Samuel Swan & Co., on Saturday last, sold the whole of their capital price of $60,000 to a gentleman in Philadelphia. This is the third instance within the space of sixty days that Swan & Co. have been called upon to cash either the whole, half, or quarter of the capital price, besides numerous other prices varying from $1,500 to $15,000. These enterprising managers have the reputation of paying with promptness every price drawn in their lottery, and may be said to be truly a paying institution.

DIED.

Suddenly, at Belise, below New Orleans, Aug. 16th, of Yellow Fever, Lieut. Wm. Gray McGregor, in the 27th year of his age.
With sadness we record the death of one of our young townsmen. Mr. McGregor is the eldest son of Alexander McGregor, Esq., of this city, and possessed the finest social qualities, combined with rare kindness of heart, and quick, active intelligence. Not many months have elapsed since he obtained a commission in the U. S. Revenue Service, and left home for the far Southward with all the glad anticipations of youth and strength, but he has passed away suddenly in the prime of his early manhood, and again we realize that the golden bowl is broken at the cistern. His family received news announcing his death on Saturday last, but their grief could not be mitigated even by the knowledge that he died in the unflinching discharge of his duties. In a climate where pestilence walked by night, where the great river of our country rolls its flood into the ocean, his soul passed from this life into eternity. H.

Notice to Mariners.

Letter to the Secretary of the Treasury COMMUNICATED

The development of dangers to navigation in San Francisco Bay, California.

COAST SURVEY OFFICE, June 15th, 1858.

Start: I have the honor to report that a small schooner of San Pablo Point, lying a little to the southward and westward of the "Boathouse," and in the track of vessels going from San Francisco to Benicia, has been examined and the vicinity surveyed by Lieut. Condy R. M. Carter, U. S. N., Assistant in the Coast Survey. The following is an extract from a recent report made by that officer:
"The vessel was found to be seventeen feet, but as it was about the time of high water, four or five feet should be deducted. To be on the safe side, I have put down the depth as twelve feet at mean low water, and have marked the spot as 'Whiting's Rock' on the tracing which accompanies my report.
"It is small and might easily escape detection in soundings.
"I took the occasion also to look for a reef on the Contra Costa flats, the existence of which had been reported to me several weeks before, and after three attempts found it. At very low tides this reef is bare, and would probably be only covered at mean low water.
"The positions of the two dangers to navigation mentioned above have been marked on the charts of San Pablo and San Francisco bays, the engraving of which is now in progress.

I would respectfully request authority to publish this letter in the form of a notice to mariners.

Very respectfully, yours,
A. D. BACHE, Supt.
Hon. HOWARD COMB, Secretary of the Treasury.
